Internal Complaints Committee – Annual Report 2024-25

An awareness procession against gender-based violence was organized by Internal Complaint Committee (ICC) of the college, under the “Nayi Chetna 3.0 Campaign – 2024.” The programme was conducted in accordance with the directives of the National Council for Teacher Education (NCTE), New Delhi on December 18, 2024, with the objective of spreading awareness about the prevention of violence based on gender discrimination.

The procession was formally flagged off by the Principal, Dr. Anjum Waris, who encouraged participants to actively contribute towards building a safe and equitable society. Faculty members, students, and staff enthusiastically participated in the march, holding banners and placards conveying strong messages against gender-based violence. The rally moved through nearby areas to sensitize the community and promote social responsibility. The procession passed through various areas and concluded at R.N.R. College, Samastipur where participants reaffirmed their commitment to promoting gender equality and creating a violence-free environment. The awareness procession successfully conveyed a strong social message and reflected both the institution’s dedication toward fostering gender sensitivity and social justice.

Internal Complaints Committee – Annual Report 2024-25

A Wall Painting Activity from December 19-23, 2024 was organized by Internal Complaint Committee (ICC) of the college, under the “Nayi Chetna 3.0 Campaign Against Gender-Based Violence – 2024.” The activity aimed to spread awareness about gender equality and to promote a violence-free and inclusive society.

Faculty members and students actively participated in painting meaningful murals on the college boundary walls. The artworks depicted themes such as gender equality, women’s empowerment, equal opportunities in education and professions, and unity between genders. Powerful messages like “Break the Bias” and “Build Equal Future” were visually represented through creative designs and vibrant colours. The activity not only enhanced awareness regarding gender-based violence but also encouraged teamwork, creativity, and social responsibility among participants. The painted walls now serve as a permanent reminder of the institution’s commitment to promoting gender sensitivity and equality.
